An extended abstract of a paper on the subject of:
COORDINATION OF GOVERNMENT BODIES AND PUBLIC ASSOCIATIONS ACTIVITY IN MODERN UKRAINE

Problem setting.

In the period of independence of Ukraine in the national historiography past experience of cooperation and constructive cooperation of state authorities and NGOs in the field of socio-political system of Ukrainian society was gradually reinvented. However, along with those in the historical and legal information sources there is a lacks objective and comprehensive approach to the characterization of the theoretical state of cooperation between public authorities and NGOs.

Recent research and publications analysis.

Among the works that are devoted to the study of issues of public administration it is necessary to note works of: H. Atamanchuka, V. Kozbanenko, O. Kryukova, V. Melnychenka, I. Nadolnoho, M. Piren, H. Sytnyka, P. Shtompky, F. Shamhalova. Problems of relationship between state and civil society are considered in the works V. Bakumenka, K. Hadzhyyeva, V. Kozakova, A. Matsyuka, L. Shklyara, O. Yakubovskoho and others.

Taking into account the severity of the problem and studying issues in today's reality, the researchers bypassed too acute problems, conflicts, negative phenomena, unsolved problem in the above mentioned issues of cooperation.

The urgency of this problem, and the lack of its development led to the choice of the theme of the scientific research.
The purpose of the article.

The article’s purpose - is a theoretical study of mechanisms of cooperation between public authorities and civil society organizations and the formation of the concept of meaningful and constructive cooperation of state bodies and public organizations in the socio-political system of Ukraine.

The main material research.

At the present stage of development of Ukraine there is the process of further expanding democracy among the Ukrainian society.

The presence in the country of a large number of NGOs and groups of different orientation and forms, shows the sustainable further development of the process of democratization of Ukrainian society and its transformation by objective indicators of civil society.

The state, in essence, having a power, provides for political parties, social organizations and associations the legal basis for their establishment and functioning.

The functional activity of the state and public organizations and associations should be built on the basis of partnership, collaboration, absence of intervention into the internal activities of state and public organizations and unite.

The leading role in the interaction between public authorities and public organizations and associations is owned by public authorities, because the State has a rule of power, providing social organizations and associations with legal basis for their establishment and functioning.

The research shows that the key configurations of partnership between public authorities and public organizations and associations are common drafting of plans under the various trends of projects forming public companies; joint resolutions and decisions; the formation of joint committees; councils; organization and common action; Council of Workers; collective agreements, etc.

One of the most effective configuration of interaction of public authorities, political parties and public organizations and associations are mutual election of their representatives into governing bodies, as well as the active participation of political parties and public organizations and associations and their representatives in elections to state bodies and local authorities.

The findings of this study and further research in this direction.

Unde the present circumstances of our country's Independence, when the process of social and economic crisis is deepening it is significant to develop the combination of effort and performance of all state bodies and relevant NGOs and associations. To enhance substantive cooperation and interaction between them, in our society there are many conditions and circumstances. Our state, possessing rule of law, guarantees legal and associations framework to the socio-political parties and public organizations and associations not only their creation and functioning, but also in fruitful partnership to address significant social-financial and social-political problems of our modern society. During the interaction of public authorities, public and political parties, public organizations and associations an effective system to coordinate their work and functioning is created.
