Research Objective in general and scientific perception. Economic security is directly related to political, informational and military-political security through appropriate tools for effective influence. According to V. Heyets, "... the provision of economic security is a guarantee of the country independence, stability terms and effective life of society" [1, p. 14].

However, the provision of the state economic security is demonstrated through the basic functions of the state, which require its refinement by virtue of providing the basic essence of the state - guaranteeing the security of each individual in various spheres of activity.

There is an analysis of recent researches and publications which have initiated the solution for this problem and based on the author’s opinion, allocation of previously unsettled parts of the general problem, which is dedicated to this article. Research of the main state tools in the field of providing economic security for the state were the subject of scientific research made by V. M. Heyets [1], D. D. Zadykhaylo [2], V. S. Nersesyants [4], O. G. Prokopenko [8], I. O. Revak [10] and others. However, there is still no unanimity regarding the provision of economic security for the state, as it is not discussed among the scholars, and there is no observation of the legislative level, which can be attracted to our attention and determined by the expediency of scientific research on the subject under study.

Research Objective. The purpose of the article is to study the main functions of the state in the field of economic security of the state at the legislative level using various literary sources, to provide scientific recommendations for clarifying the basic functions and powers of different economic entities in ensuring the economic security of the state.

The study conclusions and prospects for further exploration in this line. After studying the main functions of the state in the sphere of ensuring the country's economic security in the legislative framework of Ukraine and various literary sources, we came to the conclusion that now we have no single interpretation of them. We have substantiated the legislative framework and the subjects of the state and non-state system, which carry out the main functions of the state in this area, as well as the views of different scientists in this area.

The implementation of the main functions of the state and ensuring economic security by various subjects of the state system are singled out. We should also take into account the absence of a special governmental body that would execute the basic functions of economic security, we have proposed to create a separate special body ensuring economic security of the state at the legislative level, which would fulfill not only the functions but also the tasks entrusted to it. In the long run, it can provide timely detection of violations in the economic sphere and their elimination, increase control over the observance of the lawfulness of the adopted separate normative legal act for ensuring the national economic security of the state, as well as the content for the key measures of state customs, monetary policy, banking development and export control.
